The background is an abstract watercolor composition. It features three main color fields: a large orange field on the left, a light green field on the top right, and a white field on the bottom right. These fields are separated by soft, irregular edges. Scattered across the entire composition are numerous small, solid black dots of varying sizes, creating a speckled or starry effect.

The image features a background of marbled paper with a complex, swirling pattern of dark grey, black, and light grey/white. The pattern resembles natural stone or liquid marbling. Centered horizontally across the middle of the image is the word "MONOCHROME" in a large, bold, white, sans-serif typeface. The letters are thick and have a slight shadow or drop effect, making them stand out against the busy, textured background.
